About the Heritage Centre & Tea Rooms

Healey Dell, Rochdale is an area of outstanding natural beauty, ideal for observing local wildlife. Sat in the heart of Healey Dell, is the Mill House which underwent a period of restoration after becoming a Rangers' Office' to its present Heritage Centre and Tea Rooms. The Healey Dell Heritage Centre and Tea rooms opened its door to the public on Good Friday 2013.

Since 1824, this building (previously known as the Healey Hall Mills) was home to a number of families including Ashton's, Butterworth's, Byrons, Chadwicks, Gartside's, Halliwells, Healeys, Holts, Schofield's, Tweeddales amongst others . This building was later used as the munition's factory administrative office in the 1940-1943s . There is still a well-preserved air raid shelter/bunker in the basement with a secondary escape hatch.

Today the Heritage Centre & Tearooms are run by Lisa Mok and her volunteers/employees who have maintained and significantly improved the Edwardian Themed Venue. The Heritage Centre acts as the focal point of information to visitors and customers alike. This Edwardian splendour has several bone-china pottery displays, rooms lit with magnificent chandeliers. The nature of the dell and its surroundings are reflected by the paintings, photographs and picture galleries in its tea rooms.

A significant amount of the profits raised by the tea rooms goes back into the development of its facilities and information resources. We hope you enjoy the ambience, quality of food & more importantly friendly & welcoming service.

Our Venues

Heritage Room (Disabled access/Ground floor) Capacity 25 people.

Our Heritage Room is decorated tastefully to reflect the Edwardian charm, with three large windows and located at ground level. The room itself is lit by two Victorian-style chandeliers and features a wealth of local and historical information of the Healey Dell area on display. The information itself is well presented on ornate gold swept frames. You will also find bone China, copper pots and unique tea pots on display. This room has disabled access with disabled toilets and a baby-changing station. The room offers privacy and other facilities including WIFI, music and projection facilities.

Main Tea Rooms (First floor, flight of stairs) Capacity 55 people

Our main tearoom transports you back into the Edwardian period. The grand piano at one end of the tearoom has stunning views of the meandering River Spodden. Several windows open up the day light into this tearoom with views of the historic munitions factory, old police station, a mill, chemists and a magazine store. A small window reveals the River Spodden and its beautiful banks which opens into the dell area. This tearoom overlooks the riverside garden as well as the tea garden of the heritage centre. These rooms are brightly lit by chandeliers and is ideal for a larger group and live performances. Our bar is also located at this level.

Riverside View/Bar (Outdoor heated shelter) Capacity 60 people

Our riverside garden is suitable for private parties and has shelter from the elements. It overlooks the river Spodden and has beautiful bank and wooded area. It is surrounded by wildlife and perfect for events such as wedding and bridal parties, naming ceremonies, anniversaries and many more.

Tea Garden (Outdoor heated shelter) Capacity 60 people

Our tea garden is suited for a medium to large party. The garden overlooks the Spodden and faces the munitions wall on the other side. It's private and secluded, with beautifully crafted large wooden benches with backs, is ideal for outdoor dining, barbeque and live performances.
